

Undergraduate English Language Proficiency Requirements and International English Language Equivalencies

Overview

The University of Auckland (UoA) sets standards for English Language proficiency for admission to the University for international applicants. All international applicants are required to provide satisfactory evidence of their proficiency in English.

This could take the form of an acceptable English language test, such as IELTS or TOEFL, or previous academic study completed in English. The purpose of this document is to outline what will be accepted as satisfactory evidence for this requirement. Please note that domestic applicants are not included.

International applicants entering the University on the basis of NCEA, Cambridge International (formerly known as CIE) or IB taken in New Zealand, must meet the standard literacy requirements for admission; refer to the NCEA, Cambridge International and IB requirements on the University of Auckland website. IELTS and TOEFL are not replacements for these literacy requirements. International applicants entering the University on the basis of Cambridge International or IB taken outside of New Zealand may meet the standard literacy requirement through an alternative approved English test as outlined below.
