What is the Rhodes Scholarship?

- The Rhodes Scholarship is a fully-funded, full time, postgraduate award which enables talented young people from around the world, to study at the University of Oxford.
- We encourage applications from talented students everywhere.
- Applying for the Scholarship is a challenge, but it is an experience which has helped generations of young people to succeed.
- Rhodes Scholars come to the UK for two or more years and can apply to study any postgraduate course offered by Oxford University.

What is the Rhodes Scholarship?

The Rhodes Scholarship was established through the Will of Cecil John Rhodes in 1902. Over a hundred years later, the Rhodes Scholarships are the oldest and perhaps most prestigious international scholarship programme in the world.

Our reputation as the world's most distinguished academic scholarship rests not on the controversial life of our founder Cecil Rhodes, but on the enormous contributions our Scholars have made to the world.

And the qualities sought in a Rhodes Scholar - intellectual distinction combined with concern for others, energy to lead, and a focus on public service - remain as compelling as they were over a century ago.

What does the Rhodes Scholarship Cover?

- The Rhodes Scholarship covers Oxford University (and College) fees, as well as providing an annual stipend.
- Following selection for the Scholarship, the Rhodes Trust will cover the fee required to apply to study at the University of Oxford.
- The Trust will cover the fee for a Tier 4 study visa and the associated International Health Surcharge (IHS).
- We cover two economy class flights - to and from the UK - for the beginning and end of studies in Oxford. On arrival in Oxford, Scholars also receive a settling in allowance.

What makes the Scholarship Unique?

Rhodes Scholars unlike other scholarships join for a lifetime, a unique and vibrant international community of Scholars. Our Character, Service and Leadership Programme form part of the scholar's personal training.

Unlike other Oxford University Students you'll have Rhodes House...

- There are study spaces, libraries and social events where you will meet other Scholars.
- Scholars also attend social events like the Coming Up Dinner and Rhodes Ball.
- It's where the Registrar, the Dean, and the Warden are based.
- Rhodes House hosts talks, seminars and forums with world leading experts and guests.

What do Rhodes Scholars say?

"Rhodes House has afforded me the opportunity to make lifelong friendships with great minds from diverse backgrounds, from whom I have learned so much."

Emmanuelle Dankwa
(West Africa & St Peter's 2018)

"The thing I enjoyed the most about Rhodes House was how so many Scholars from so many different backgrounds are put together, forcing us to embrace our differences and learn from each other's cultures."

Xilin Jiang
(China & University 2017)

"There is nothing quite like the opportunity to so fully invest in your vision for the future and I am thrilled to be able to embark on this journey."

Wakithi Mabaso
(South Africa-at-Large 2022)

Could you be a Rhodes Scholar?

Rhodes Scholars come from all backgrounds and we welcome applications from talented young persons of diverse backgrounds.

Academic achievement and excellence.

What do we look for in a candidate?

Energy to use one's talents to the full as demonstrated by mastery in areas such as sports, music, debate, dance, theatre, and artistic pursuits, particularly where teamwork is involved.

Truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship.

The courage and skills required to lead with a wider desire for public good.

The Application Process

MYTH NUMBER ONE

I'm not the type of person who can win a Rhodes Scholarship.

We welcome applications from talented young persons of diverse backgrounds. Selection is made without regard to gender, gender identity, marital status, sexual orientation, race, ethnic origin, colour, religion, social background, caste, or disability.

MYTH NUMBER TWO

I have to be top of my class.

Academic excellence is important as you will need to be able to gain entry to the University of Oxford; however, equally important is your commitment to serve others.

Mythbusting the Scholarship

MYTH NUMBER THREE

I can't apply because my country is not listed as a Rhodes constituency.

We now offer two Global Scholarships for eligible candidates from the rest of the world (i.e. not connected to any other of our Constituencies) to apply for a Scholarship

MYTH NUMBER FOUR

You have to have done months of volunteer work abroad or started your own NGO.

As long as you demonstrate that you have worked to improve the lives of others, is what counts. It can be done in a multitude of ways in your own neighbourhood. You will also need to be able to talk in the interview about what you hope to do in the future.

MYTH NUMBER FIVE

Most Scholars end up as political leaders.

Today's Rhodes Scholars include Presidents and Prime Ministers, but also medical researchers, social workers, artists, journalists, lawyers, teachers, activists, poets, doctors and many more!
